CLASSIC CHIPPENDALE ELBOW CHAIR

The Classic Irish Chippendale Elbow Chair is a reproduction of a magnificently detailed Irish example of a Chippendale chair from around 1780. This chair retains all the charm of the original: a finely pierced interlaced back splat, straight legs, cross stretchers, and a handsome comfortable saddle-shaped seat shown here with brass nails in two rows.

PRODUCT DESCRIPTION

Classic Chippendale Elbow Chair

The Classic Irish Chippendale elbow chair is a copy of a great find in Dublin of a chair of around 1780. This chair retains all the magnificently detailed features of the original. For instance: the finely pierced, interlaced and fretted back splat, and the typical Chippendale straight legs. In addition, the cross stretchers ensure strength. It also features a handsome comfortable saddle-shaped seat, shown here finished with brass nails in two rows.
